A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Lover and Physician Arraigned.

F. William Hermann and Dr. John K. Tompkins, colored, of Cumberland, Md., charged with causing the death of Miss Jean Maxwell last June, were placed on trial in Hagerstown yesterday on the charge of manslaughter.

The accused were arraigned as having performed a criminal operation on Miss Maxwell. A post-mortem examination, it was stated, showed septic peritonitis. Miss Maxwell before she died told her parents Hermann had promised to marry her.

Dr. James T. Johnson testified that he was called to attend Miss Maxwell three days befor her death. He made an examination and found her suffering with blood poisoning brought on by an operation. Her condition was extremely critical, and he advised her to tell her parents. He saw her the next day and was present at the post-mortem with Drs. Koon, Wiley and Hawkins.

At a session held last night Dr. Thomas Koon was on the stand two hours, testifying that Hermann called him to the drug store where he was employed, informed him he "had gotten a girl in trouble" and asked Dr. Koon not to tell the girl's family. Dr. Koon said he found Miss Maxwell in a critical condition. Later he told her parents of her trouble, and kept Hermann posted as to her condition. Shortly before she died he advised Hermann to tell his brother. Hermann once told him he had secretly married Miss Maxwell. When he told Hermann the girl would die, Hermann talked of committing suicide. Dr. Koon related the girl's deathbed confession, in which she stated that Hermann took her to the office of Dr. Tompkins, who performed an operation. She said the wedding had been postponed because Hermann said he had to support his sister and mother.

A number of letters from Hermann to Miss Maxwell relating to confidential matters were offered in evidence. Mrs. Joseph Maxwell, mother of the dead girl, told of the death bed confession of her daughter, who implicated Hermann and Dr. Tompkins. She identified a diamond engagement ring, tied to a ribbon, which she said her daughter told her Hermann had given her. Mrs. Maxwell said Hermann visited her daughter three times a day during her illness, staying often until midnight, treating her and giving her medicines.

Banker's Son Kidnapped.

A banker's son kidnapped and held for $20,000 ransom, is the latest puzzle the New York police have been called upon to solve. The parents, frantic with fear, have received two letters from the boy imploring that the sum mentioned be sent to his captors. The kidnappers themselves have twice written, demanding the ransom on penalty of the lad's death.

The victim of the bold plain to extort $20,000 is Antonio Bozuffi, the fourteen-year-old son of John Bozuffi, a leading Italian banker, whose place of business is at Sixty-third street and First avenue, New York.

The kidnaping occurred last Sunday, on which day the bank is kept open during the afternoon. The boy, who was acting as a clerk, was sent out to purchase $10 worth of stamps and did not return. Inquiry proved that he had made the purchase.

On Monday the first letter came from the lad. Yesterday came the second, and with it the letter of the abductors. The latter was well written and in Italian. The boy's first letter said he was held captive in Brooklyn. After asking that the money be paid, the note concluded:

"Do not advise the police under any circumstances, because if you do my life will leave this world."

One of the letters from the boy's captors contained the sentence:

"Our scope, signor, is not vindictiveness. It is solely the extreme necessity which exists for the possession of the sum indicated. Upon your consignment of the money, all at once, without default, your son will be set free and safe."

March 8 is the day set for the payment of the ransom.

New York, March 7.—The fourteen-year-old son of Banker Bozuffi who has been thought to have been kidnapped returned home this morning. The affair seem to be clouded in mystery.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggests.

For an Impaired Appetite.

Loss of appetite always results from faulty digestion. All that is needed is a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will invigorate the stomach, strengthen the digestion and give you an appetite like a wolf. These Tablets also act as a gentle laxative. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for it. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous.

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chestertown, Md.

Another Woman's Case

"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared.

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for other women at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Sea Horror.

The wreck of the four-masted schooner Mary Manning, the details of which were learned yesterday, when her crew arrived at Boston on the British steamer Casilda, form another sea horror. With their vessel stripped of her masts and sails by lightning, her hull filled and soaked with water, and with the ruined hulk driven by wind and current, a mere waterlogged raft and derelict, the captain, one passenger and crew of eight men, including F. J. Murphy, the steward, of Baltimore, were for four days huddled up on the afterhouse, barely subsisting on a little canned corn and water, clinging for their lives to the icy woodwork and exposed to the seas which constantly broke over them. Finally when the deckhouse was washed away the men were forced to take refuge on the spanker boom, from which some of them dropped from sheer exhaustion, when the boats of the Casilda arrived alongside, the others jumping into the boats to save their lives. Before that the mate had leaped overboard in delirium, but a Norwegian sailor, in spite of the fact that he had been injured by the shifting deckload of lumber, sprang after him and effected his rescue. All the 10 persons were in a state of collapse from suffering, hunger and exposure when taken off by the Caslida. The rescue was made 160 miles south by east of the Nantucket South Shoals lightship, and when last seen the schooner was barely afloat. She was bound from Fernandina, Fla., for New York with a cargo of railroad ties. She was a victim of a storm of unusual severity, which developed six days after she had left the southern port.

The best safeguard against headaches, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They don't gripe. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING. MAR. 7, 1906.

THE Chinese government is naturally disturbed by reports of anti-foreign movements published in the American and European newspapers announcing America's preparedness for a military expedition and regards such talk in the United States as an act of unfriendliness. And well she may. That this country is preparing to go to war with China is believed by many, but for what cause it is not given out. In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Hale sharply criticised the general staff of the army for its alleged behavior that is resulting in dangerous friction and excitement in China, which, he broadly intimated, may plunge this country into bloody war with the Celestial Empire. Mr. Hale declared that the general staff had prepared plans for the invasion of China by an American army. He insisted that the invasion of China by an American army would be a declaration of war while Congress was in session, and without the legislative branch of the government being consulted at all on so serious a matter. The attack of Senator Hale, however, it is announced, will have no effect on the administration's plans to deal "vigorously with any trouble arising in China that may threaten the safety of American lives or property!"

THE INVESTIGATION of the mysterious circumstances in connection with the murder of George R. Curtin early in the morning of the 24th of December last was resumed in the Police Court this morning. Forty-nine witnesses had been summoned, a number of whom are women. The evidence when the Gazette's report closed was substantially the same as that obtained a month ago It is rumored, however, that the prosecution is keeping back star witnesses for the closing stages of the examination. This is inferred from the nature of some of the questions propounded to witnesses. The parties summoned are segregated without the court room and but one at a time is allowed to enter; hence they can have no opportunity to listen to the evidence of one another and some of the testimony is therefore conflicting. The "man wearing a light coat" is again figuring in the testimony, but none of the witnesses, so far, has been able to identify this strange individual.

DESPITE the efforts to the contrary by Mr. Wickham, chairman of the State Senate finance committee, that body yesterday voted to increase the pay of the members of the State legislature more than double. Mr. Wickham strenuously opposed the bill, declaring that he would consent to an increase of the salary from $4 to $6 per day, but would continue, though he knew the house was against him, to register his protest against a doubling of the pay. Judge Phlegar also warned the Senate that the general assembly had raised many salaries and expended a large sum of money, and that now to put some of it in the pockets of the men doing the voting would be embarking upon a policy of extravagance, for which not only the individuals, but the democratic party itself, would be answerable to the people. These warnings were all in vain to the men who "needed the money" and the Senate passed the bill.

WHILE republican opponents of the railroad rate bill are sulking in their tents in resentment at the President the democratic Senators are, it is said, rapidly getting together on the amendments they will present to the measure in order to perfect and make it thoroughly effective. When these amendments are finally formulated it is believed they will be found to be in substantial agreement with the ideas of the conservative people of the country. They will seek to confine the right of appeal from orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the courts within the narrowest limits compatible with the provisions of the constitution forbidding the taking of property without due process of law and just compensation to the owners.

THE salary grab bill passed by the State Senate yesterday provides for a salary of $500 for each member of the legislature for the regular session of sixty days and for $250 for any extra session that body may hold. The vote on the bill was as follows:

Ayes—Campbell, Chapman, Echols, Fulton, Harman, Hobbs, Holt, Keezell, Kerns, Lassiter, Lincoln, Machen, Niemeyer, Rison, Roberts, Sadler, Sears, Shackelford, Shands, Sims, Tavenner, Thomas, Walker—23.

Noes—Anderson, Garrett, Gunter, Mann, Phlegar, St. Clair, Strode, Turner, H. T. Wickham and T. A. Wickham—10.

THERE seems to be little doubt that the Chinese government is earnestly trying to discourage and to suppress any anti-foreign demonstrations by the people. The part of reason and of justice surely is, however, for foreign countries not to embarrass but rather to aid and sustain the Chinese government in its laudable efforts It would not be for the good of the world to have another Boxer outbreak or to have the Chinese dynasty overthrown and the whole empire cast into the melting pot.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 7.

The late Lieut. Gen. John E. Schofield was buried at Arlington Cemetery this afternoon with full military honors. President Roosevelt, the members of the Cabinet, the diplomatic corps and representatives of the G. A. R., Loyal Legion, Army of the Tennessee, Army of the Ohio and Army and Navy Union attended the funeral services which were conducted by Bishop Mackay-Smith, at St. John's Church. The honorary pallbearers were: Secretary Taft, former Secretaries of War Proctor, Elkins, Alger, Root and prominent officers of the army and navy. Brig. Gen. Barry commanded the military escort, which consisted of six companies of coast artillery from Fort Monroe, two companies of coast artillery from Fort Washington, Md., four companies of engineer troops from Washington Barracks, and a squadron of cavalry and the two batteries of field artillery from Fort Myer. When the cortege reached Fort Myer, on the way to Arlington, an artillery salute of 17 guns was fired. Interment was made in a lot in the eastern section of the cemetery, which had been selected some time ago by Gen. Schofield. It is located near the Gen. Sheridan monument and just east of the Temple of Fame.

Attorney Worthington closed the argument for the defense in the Green trial this morning. He contended that the purchases of time recording devices for the Postoffice Department by Beavers were upon the orders of his superiors, and not the result of Beavers' initiative. He stated that in order to convict Green inferences would have to be drawn from certain check transactions that might have been perfectly innocent in themselves. No evidence had been presented to show that Green agreed to pay Beavers a commission. The case will probably go to the jury late this afternoon.

President Roosevelt had a long conference with Senator Knox on the railroad rate matter this morning. It is regarded as quite significant that the Pennsylvania Senator is once more on visiting terms with the administration, for it was not more than a week ago that their relations were quite strained because the President and Secretary Moody had "edited" the amendment that Mr. Knox proposed to add to the Hepburn bill.

Senor Pu'ido, the secretary of the Venezuelan legation, presented Senor Guzman-Garbiras, the new Venezuelan charge d' affairs, at the State Department this morning. Secretary Root had a brief talk with the new representative. Venezuela now has no ministers at any of her European or American posts, and as a mere representative without plenipotentiary powers the charge d'affaires will not be formally presented to President Roosevelt.

Senator Tillman is determined to press his demand that the committee on privileges and elections be directed to investigate into his charges that national banks have been making campaign contributions. A meeting of the committee will be held Saturday, before which he will appear

President Roosevelt sent a message to Congress this afternoon that he had signed the Tillman-Gillespie joint resolution demanding an inquiry by the Interstate Commerce Commission into the subject of railroad discriminations and monopolies in coal and oil. He says that he signed the resolution with hesitation "because in the form in which it was passed it achieves very little and may achieve nothing." He therefore asks certain additional legislation on the subject.

Senators Spooner and Bacon have about reached an agreement on an amendment to the Isles of Pines treaty, which, it is said, will be satisfactory to those who have been opposing that convention. It provides that the Island shall be treated as a separate and distinct province of Cuba, and that its inhabitants shall be given local self government, with the provision that, as soon as the population warrants it, they shall be entitled to representation in the Cuban Congress.

The House committee on banking and currency today authorized favorable report on a bill permitting a national bank to loan an amount of money on farm lands equal to 25 per cent. of its paid up capital and its surplus.

The members of the House committee on rivers and harbors, of which Representative Burton, of Ohio, is chairman, accompanied by Chairman Hepburn and several members of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, left the city this morning in a special car over the Southern Railway to inspect rivers and harbors in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. Representative Burton did not accompany the committee, being in Ohio, but will join it later. The party will return to Washington March 17.

Threatened Strike of Telegraphers.

The telegraphers and station agents of the Southern Railway Company may be on a strike before Friday if the officials do not agree upon the wage scale presented by the Telegraphers' Union. This is the ultimatum announced from official quarters last evening.

Negotiations regarding the wage scale have been pending since December. The dilatoriness of the officials of the company is giving the telegraphers a definite answer to their demands has resulted in H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers of the United States and Canada, coming to Washington to direct the movements of the union.

In an official statement Mr. Perham last night outlined the grievances of the operators and agents as follows:

"We are demanding a minimum scale for operators and agents of $50 a month and a maximum of $85. The scale in effect at present fixes the minimum wage of operators at $30 and agents at $25 a month.

"The committee of fifteen representing the operators have had repeated conferences with General Manager H. B. Spencer and Gen. Supt. McManus, of the Southern Raiway. Thus far the officials have treated the representatives of the union fairly and courteously, although they have persistently evaded the issue.

"While I do not desire to say anything to break off negotiations or to create any ill feeling between the officials of the Southern and the operators, still I will state emphatically that unless the wage scale submitted is not accepted by Friday, 1,265 telegraph operators and agents of the 1,573 employed by the Southern Railway will be called out."

A press dispatch from El Paso, Texas, says word was received there today from Corona, N. M., that Mr. Schwab was improved when his train arrived there this morning.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Churchman two-cent rate bill caused a running debate in the Senate yesterday. Some of the members opposed taking the bill up out of its regular order, while others declared it too important an issue to be allowed to die without a vote. Senator Sears spoke against it for an hour, declaring it class legislation, and that a man able to buy a 500-mile book was given a privilege over one who could not buy it.

The time having arrived for the special order of the day, the supplemental appropriation bill, the railroad bill was laid over. Senator Wickham made an explanatory speech on the bill, saying that the total appropriations for two years carried more than $8,400,000. There was an apparent deficit between the expenditures and the receipts of the auditor of $281,260. He said he had been taunted with making mistakes, but he believed it was best to adopt the report of the finance committee.

Senators Sadler and Lassiter advocated an increase in the amount allowed the Petersburg Normal and Industrial Institute from $5,000 to 10,000. The increase amendment was adopted by the vote of 16 to 14.

An amendment by Mr. Strode to require the construction of a messhall at the University, so that students could live more economically, was opposed by Senator Machen as an interference in the management of the institution, and was defeated.

The Senate passed the Machen bill designed to regulate the loan companies. After it had been amended at the request of the patron so that loans of $60 and over for 60 days should bear only 6 per cent. interest, the bill was communicated to the House.

The Old Wharton insurance bill, revived this session by Judge Williams, and already passed by the House, was favorably reported to the Senate. The law will prevent all combination of fire insurance companies to fix rates.

The supplementary appropriation bill, already passed by the House, was debated and went over as a special order until today.

The vote by which the Sadler salary bill, more than doubling the pay of members of the General Assembly, was lost was reconsidered by an overwhelming majority, and the discussion of the measure began all over again. The bill got through safely at last, receiving two more than the required 21 votes. It makes a flat rate of $500 per member for a regular session of 60 days and $250 for a special session of 30 days.

Among the bills passed at the night session were several of interest, including the Mann pure cider bill, the San Jose scale bill, and the bill relating to the R. E. Lee statue in Statuary Hall. To amend and re-enact an act to provide for creating, working and maintaining public roads in Fairfax county; to amend and re-enact an act to create a road board for the county of Fauquier; to amend section 11 of an act for the extension of the corporate limits of cities and towns; to amend an act to provide for the collection of all taxes in arrears and past due to the Commonwealth prior to February 1, 1903, upon the shares of capital stocks of banks and banking associations, whether due by resident or non-resident stockholders.

HOUSE.

The House spent a full hour arguing a resolution to limit debate to five minutes when the bill of Dr. Powell to make the playing of football a crime came up as a special order. He denounced the game as worse than prize-fighting or the bull ring. Mr. Early, the giant member from Madison, and former center rush on the University of Virginia team, opposed the measure. He raised a storm of applause by rising to his full height and declaring himself a monument of health to the football game.

Dr. Powell, who is himself a humorist asked:

"But how many have you killed?"

When the demonstration had subsided Mr. Early, with an imperturbable smile retorted:

"Doctor, how many have you killed?"

The House refused to order the bill to its third reading and engrossment.

Dr. Powell took his seat, with the remark that he did not expect it to pass.

The bill to restrict the sale of cigarettes, pistols, dirks and bowie knives to small boys, of which Messrs. Glenn and Curlett are the joint patrons, was passed by a large majority.

The House engrossed the bill relieving medical doctors from the payment of license taxes.

The Caton rolling stock bill was debated at length, and went over.

The bill authorizing boards of supervisors and city and town councils to levy taxes on incomes, was finally dismissed.

When rule 39 was reached Mr. Booker moved to discharge the roads committee from the consideration of his resolution requesting the Corporation Commission to fix a flat two-cent passenger rate for all the railroads of the State, and the motion was adopted.

The democratic members of the legislature will hold a caucus Thursday night to nominate judges for the five new judicial circuits. There are now five candidates in the Twenty ninth circuit composed of Nelson, Amherst, Fluvanna and Buckingham. They are L. C. Scott, Amherst; Bennet T. Gordon, Nelson; W. G. Loving, Nelson; Paul Pettit, Fluvanna, and Edmund W. Hubard, Buckingham. This is the only district in which there is a contest.

The Senate committee for counties cities, and towns yesterday took up the Puller bill prohibiting the redistricting of cities for representation in councils oftener than once in five years. The bill has already been passed by the House.

The committee made an unanimous report in favor of the bill, and it was reported to the Senate, with the recommendation that the Senate concur in the action of the House.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

The matter of perhaps the greatest interest in either branch yesterday was the rejection by the House of the conference report on the general appropriation bill and the request of the body for a new committee of conference. The committee will be named today and another conference held at once. It was thought by some that the turning down of the report was a move to force an extra session.

The Senate committee for courts of justice last night reported, with the recommendation that it do not pass, the bill to require insurance companies doing business in this State to deposit, loan or invest moneys within this State equal to 75 per cent. of the amount of net receipts on the business of said companies done within this State.

The Senate committee for courts of justice yesterday reported favorably the Mann bill, prohibiting the location of saloons within 200 feet of churches and schools in cities under 10,000 inhabitants and in towns.

"Judge" Andrew Hamilton, who was at the head of the New York Life legislative committee, returned unexpectedly to New York yesterday, as he said, to face the music.

The committee of the Maryland legislature which tried to harmonize the various oyster interests has failed of its purpose, the failure being due, it is said, to the Chesapeake bay committee insisting upon making changes in the proposed measure after it had been agreed upon by the various committees.

The appeal of Thomas M. Fields, convicted of embezzling about $16,000 of the funds of the Washington Beneficial Endowment Association, was heard yesterday in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. Fields is making an effort to have the conviction reversed, and the sentence of five years' imprisonment imposed last spring in the Criminal Court set aside.

The appropriations committee of the German Reichstag, yesterday approved the government's measure providing for the construction of six additional armored cruisers. M. Lockroy, former French minister of marine, took advantage of the discussion of the naval budget in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday to make a powerful appeal for the strengthening of the navy which aroused the enthusiasm of the whole House. Comparing the French and German navies, M. Lockroy pointed out that if the present programme of France was not augmented Germany would soon outstrip France

In a pistol duel in Middlesboro, Ky., late yesterday afternoon, between Mrs. Alice Moore and Mrs. Lucy Tucker as a result of a long-time quarrel, the life of Frank Maden was snipped out by a bullet from the revolver of Mrs. Tucker. The women met in front of a saloon and after exchanging a few words both reached into their pockets for weapons. Mrs. Tucker got her gun out first and opened fire. At the third shot Mrs. Moore turned and ran down the street unharmed, though her clothing was pierced twice. It was this last shot which struck Maden, who was near the saloon door engaged in a game of pool. The bullet hit him squarely in the forehead, producing instant death.

Democratic Committee

Representative J. M. Griggs, of Georgia, was unanimously chosen chairman of the democratic congressional committee in Washington last night at a meeting in the Capitol attended by 31 members of the committee.

The following officers of the committee were also elected without opposition: Secretary, Charles A. Edwards, Texas; assistant secretary, Capt. J. L. Pearcy, Tennessee; treasurer, James L. Norris, District of Columbia; sergeant-at-arms, J. J. Sinnott, Viginia.

There had been comment to the effect that the choice of Mr. Griggs as chairman would be regarded as a Hearst victory.

In his address after his election last night, Mr. Griggs disposed of the rumor by saying among other things:

There has been much guessing of late as to the meaning of my election as chairman. This generous expression of your confidence to me means nothing but that you wanted me to conduct this campaign, and I consented to do it. My election means nothing but a fight all along the line for a democratic House of Representatives. It bears no relation to the political fortunes of any one or to the success of any faction. Let us everyone turn in now and make the best fight in us until next November.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F Creighton & Co.

INVESTIGATING THE MURDER.

A large crowd packed the Corporation Court room this morning to witness the examination of George Patterson and Stephen Davis, who were arrested about two weeks ago on suspicion of being parties to the murder of George R. Curtin early on the morning of December 24 last.

Justice H. B. Caton presided, and Mr. S. G. Brent, Commonwealth's Attorney, conducted the prosecution and Mr. C. C. Carlin represented the accused.

About 10.15 o'clock the court was called to order when Chief Webster called the names of the 49 witnesses who had been summoned. They were ordered to advance and after they had been sworn were conducted to a room from which each was called as wanted.

It was announced that the session of the court would continue until one p. m. when a recess would be taken until two o'clock, the session to continue from that hour until five.

The first witness called to the stand was Samuel Mills, colored. He said he knew Curtin and saw him at Priest's store Saturday, December 23, between 6 and 7 p. m. Has never seen him since.

Mr. Carlin asked Mr. Brent if Vedder the detective, was in court. Mr. Brent said he was not, but in reply to another question said he could produce him if necessary.

Edward Clark said Curtin came to his house Saturday, December 23 and insisted upon his going out with him. They went to a restaurant and got an oyster stew and then Curtin got in a cab shortly before midnight and he left him.

Harry Meeks, whose last appearance in court was as a suspect, then took the stand. He said he saw Curtin at the Tontine Hotel the Saturday night in question about 12 o'clock, or shortly afterward. Meeks named a number of people who were in the bar at the time and said that he drank with Curtin, who finally became boisterous and was told by Patterson to leave. He said they left about 12:10 in a crowd. Mr. Brent asked if a man in a light overcoat was along and he replied in the negative. He said that Foster, Curtin and himself went to Lee street together and entered Eva Baker's house. There were five men in the room whom he didn't know. He said he went out to sneak away from Curtin and Foster and three of the strangers came out together. The man in the light overcoat joined them as they were trying to get in Fannie Kimball's house. They were finally admitted and entered the front room, where Curtin treated to beer. He said he did not know the light overcoat man and was sure it was neither Patterson nor "Lucky" McCaffrey.

Mr. Brent asked Meeks if he had talked with Leroy Beach since the last trial. He said yes, in the Hotel Tontine one Sunday recently. He said he went to the hotel to get a glass of beer and met Beach and several others, and Beach said that he would lend Meeks his ark in order to give him an opportunity to get back the money.

Mr. Brent asked Meeks if any member of the police force had advised him to keep his mouth shut when he was under arrest. He said he could not recall any such occurrence, but admitted that several of the officers had said it was "foolish" to keep Foster and himself locked up.

Mr. Carlin then questioned Meeks as to a row between James Fegan and Curtin in one of the Lee street houses. He said Curtin was angry because Fegan had refused to allow him to enter a room in which he was talking to some women. He did not see Fegan after that, because he left the house and went home not wishing to be around if there was going to be a fight.

George Sims, a colored cab driver was then called. He said he drove Curtin to the Tontine between 12 and 1 o'clock Monday morning. Curtin, he said, was admitted to the ladies' entrance by a man in a light overcoat. He said he did not think the man was Patterson.

Elmer Nightingill was the next witness. He said he was drinking on the night of December 23 and could recollect but little that occurred. He remembered going into the Tontine about 11:50 and left a few minutes after 12. Curtin was in the bar, he said, but did not come out with him.

William Dudley, a brother-in-law of the murdered man, was called. He was in the Tontine shortly after midnight Saturday night. Curtin came in the side door and later they all left the hotel. Curtin, Foster and Meeks turned east toward Lee street and witness went up town with his companions. He said he did not see "Lucky" McCaffrey that night.

Theodore Gensmer said he saw Curtin, Meeks, Foster and a man with a light overcoat at Mamie Wood's house early Sunday morning. Curtin, he said, stepped on his foot and they had a few words, but did not come to blows.

William Maupin stated that he left Washington at 12:30 Sunday morning, arriving here at 1 o'clock. He went to the Tontine and drank some beer in the dining room. Patterson, he said, came in and asked who the drinks were on. He left the hotel and went to Lee street, where he saw Curtin sitting on Fannie Kimball's steps. Two men were standing nearby, but he could not recognize them. One of them wore a light overcoat. He said his companions entered "the little brick." He had no recollection of a row or a police whistle being blown. Mr. Carlin questioned him closely as to the man with the light overcoat on, but he stuck to his original statement.

Carroll Hantzmon testified that he reached Alexandria from Washington at 1 o'clock at night and went to The Tontine, where he drank beer. His testimony was practically the same as Maupin's. He said the two men who were standing near Curtin acted as if they did not want to be recognized.

Douglas Wood testified that he reached Alexandria on the electric cars about 1 o'clock Sunday morning and went to the Tontine with Maupin, Hantzmon, Ernest Recker and others; got some beer and then went to Lee street. He said he did not see Curtin sitting on Fannie Kimball's steps, but heard a police whistle blown from the little brick. He said he staid on Lee street about 45 minutes and then went back to Patterson's where he again drank beer and then went home.

Mr. Carlin questioned Wood, who admitted that he was drinking on the night in question and his memory was somewhat befogged. He was not certain whether the police whistle was blown in the house or on the street.

James Fegan said he went to Lee street about 12:30 Saturday night and staid about an hour. He denied having seen Geo. Curtin, Harry Meeks or Herbert Foster that night. He said he recollected a row on Lee street between ten or twelve men, but he could not recognize any of the persons engaged in it. He said a police whistle was blown from an upper window of the "little brick" just before the row started. He recognized Leroy Beach's voice in the crowd, but did not see him. He left Lee street and went home and went to bed and did not get up until nearly noon. He said he saw Jack Ryan and Hyloa Osborne at the gas house about 4 o'clock Saturday morning, but did not see them Sunday morning nor Monday morning.

Mr. Carlin asked Fegan what he would say if he told him that witnesses had testified that he and Curtin had had a row in May Wood's house Saturday night. He said he had no recollection of such an occurrence, but could recollect the row on the street and the blowing of the police whistle. Fegan said he would swear that he did not see Ryan and Osborne Sunday morning instead of Saturday.

Paul Hanratty was then called. He said he was in the little brick when the whistle is said to have been blown, but he didn't hear it. He said he did not come out with the crowd, having left with George Johnson. They went to the electric light works, Johnson having suggested that it would be a good place to spend the balance of the night He admitted having made the remark that he was upstairs when a row occurred" and he "jumped from a second story window," but claimed that he made the statement in jest. When questioned he said he did not go to sleep and did not see Jack Ryan.

Ernest Recker was the next witness. His testimony was in line with that of Maupin and the others who came from Washington that night and went to the Tontine and then to Lee street. He said he did not hear the police whistle.

A recess was then taken.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Charles Dearborn said he came from Washington on the last car and went to the Tontine for a drink, after which he went to Lee street with a crowd. He was in a house on that street when a police whistle was blown, but he did not know why it was blown or where. When he left the house he saw Curtin, who was very drunk. Curtin asked the witness to carry him home, but he declined because there were two men with Curtin and he thought that they should take care of him. He said he did not notice the two men particularly and could not recognize them. Dearborn was closely catechised by Mr. Carlin but nothing was brought out to disclose the identity of the two men who were with Curtin. He said that the whistle was blown between 2 and 2:30 a. m.

Mr. Joseph Monroe was called. He testified that Jack Ryan took breakfast with him last Christmas Day but not on Christmas Eve.

Thomas Fegan said he saw Jack Ryan in C. M. Adams's store on the night of the 23rd of December and he was very drunk.

Gordon Boothe said that he and Hugh McGahey were in Mamie Wood's house December 23 at night. George Curtin, Harry Meeks and Herbert Foster and a stranger who wore a light overcoat, came in while he was there. He identified "Jim" Fegan as having been there at the time. He said he went to his boarding house nearby, but returned to get some matches. He saw Curtin and a large man standing near Union street. He did not see the row that is said to have taken place, nor did he see either Davis or Patterson. When questioned by Mr. Carlin, Boothe said that Curtin had threatened to kill Lena Blum and also testified that Curtin had been warned out of a room by a thick-set man.

James Fegan was called to the front and Boothe identified him as having been in the house while he was there.

Hattie Green, who was an inmate of May Wood's house, said that Curtin and Meeks were in the house on the night of Dec. 23 and a man with a smooth face and wearing a light overcoat was there at the same time She testified that Fegan was in the back parlor and when Curtin started to enter the room Fegan told him he was not wanted. She knew nothing of a row, but heard a whistle blown from "the little frames" between a quarter of three and three o'clock.

There had been nothing sensational up to 3:30 o'clock and it does not look as it today's session will turn up anything more than was brought out in the Meeks and Foster trial.

Would-be Murderer.

The police and police justice of Richmond and all who heard the testimony of George Wade in the police court yesterday are puzzled over the motive of the young man, who attempted the life of Rev. Dr. James Buchanan Saturday. He declared he tried to kill Dr. Buchanan and declared that all such places as the Associated Charities Home, of which he was long one of the beneficiaries, should be broken up. He expressed regret that he did not have money enough to buy a better pistol, so that he could have shot truer and oftener. He said he bought the pistol from a pawnshop for 25 cents, and it had only one load in it. He declared that he had as much right to all the comforts of the home as Dr. Buchanan, and that the superintendent was there only to make money.

Dr. Buchanan testified that he took Wade in, sheltered and fed him and secured him work, but the latter part Wade would not fulfill. Wade was sent on to the grand jury.

While the young man was giving vent to his bitterness of spirit against the neighborhood house and its manager, a young man out in the packed audience shouted in approval "Good!" In a trice two policemen nabbed him and brought him before the bar, where he was fined $20, and in default went to the prisoners' pen. The young man was Ernest Wells, 25 years old, who denied that he was the man, but a policeman testified that he was looking at Wells at the time and heard and saw him.

SENATE.

Mr. Foraker asked immediate consideration of a resolution authorizing the President to invite Great Britain to join in the appointment of an international commission having for its object the preservation of the natural beauties of Niagara Falls. It carried an appropriation of $20,000.

Mr. Teller said he thought that the question was one with which New York state should deal. He objected, and the resolution went over.

Senator Scott, of W. Va., in a speech this afternoon declared that he was absolutely and unequivocally opposed to giving to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix a contested rate without a provision in the act for a broad and general court review. By this attitude he arrayed himself against the administration's policy. He took the position that rate regulation was a form of governmental ownership. "While the two propositions may differ somewhat," he explained, "it is a difference in degree and not in quality." He bowed, he said to the pressing demand for regulation, but he would have it restricted. Speaking from an experience of 30 years as a shipper, and fortified by knowledge of the railroad situation in foreign countries, he declared that governments cannot make rates that will meet the needs of expanding trade and industry. The Senator said that he wanted legislation that would force railroads to make connection with lateral roads "and thus give to all free and unrestricted transportation to all markets."

Mr. Scott was followed in the railway rate discussion by Mr. Clapp who stands with Mr. Dolliver as flat footed with the administration's policy. He declared that the empowering of the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix rates was not a delegation of authority as had been charged.

HOUSE.

The House on motion of Mr. Capron, republican, Rhode Island, and at the request of Secretary Taft, passed a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to sell at Fort Davis (Nome), Alaska, such amount of coal from the army stores there as may be necessary to relieve the existing fuel famine.

In committee of the whole the Indian appropriation bill was considered.

Mr. Burke addressed the committee on the progress of the Indian.

Mrs. Donald McLean, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, yesterday presided over the March meeting of the national board of administration, held in Washington.

Mrs. M. E. S. Davis, treasurer general of the national society, made a detailed report, showing that the funds of the society are in good shape. The new contracts for Continental Memorial Hall are being pushed with vigor, it was stated, and the hall is beginning to assume a finished appearance.

It is reported as being already quite presentable, and the continental congress, which meets April 16, will be much more comfortably situated than last year, although the building will even then be far from completion.

The report of the registrar general, Mrs. Jamieson, of Alexandria, showed that 450 members have been added to the national society since the February meetings of the board.

The routine business of the society occupied the attention of the board the remainder of the day.

Formal announcement soon will be made of the engagement of Miss Glady's Vanderbilt and Robert Goelet, according to a well authenticated report current in New York today among society people.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Proceedings of the Court of Appeals yesterday were as follows:

The Suburban Company and others vs. Turner's administrator and others, fully argued and submitted.

Carlin and Company vs. Frazier; partly argued and continued.

"Ancient City Reconstructed."

The following is from the Richmond News-Leader, and in a note received at this office concerning the article, a friend asks: "What has the Gazette to say in reply to the Richmond News Leader? Do the business people of Alexandria and the ladies really prefer a northern man to a native for its postmaster?"

"Attention of the Alexandria Gazette is called to the thoroughness with which its ancient city has been reconstructed. A few days ago the newspapers announced that the president had determined to appoint as postmaster there Mr. Lawrence Washington, the nearest living male relative of the late George Washington. Not only is that gentleman a Washington and closely connected by blood with the Washingtons, but he has further illustrated his patriotism and perfected his claims on the consideration of our anti-race suicide president by being the father of thirteen children—a most creditable and significant feat for one of the original Washingtons, as his progeny corresponds in number exactly with the original States which organized and developed the union. We are not informed whether he called them after the States, beginning alphabetically with Connecticut and ending with Virginia, but the probabilities are that, lacking foreknowledge of the extent of the blessings to come to him, he failed to improve his opportunities to perfect the coincidence.

"In any case, however, Mr. Washington's appointment was confidently predicted. The thing seems so thoroughly appropriate—a Washington postmaster at Alexandria under the eaves of Christ church, where his great kinsman worshipped, and almost next door to Mount Vernon, and furthermore, the parent of thirteen new Washingtons. Yet we read now that the business people of Alexandria are delighted because the president has turned down Mr. Washington and appointed instead Mr. Thomas Burroughs, who came to Alexandria from Vermont with the federal army in the days of reconstruction and has been there ever since consistently a republican, we believe, and consistently in office. Even more curious and significant is the fact, also narrated in the newspapers, that ladies of Alexandria representing Mount Vernon Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution made a personal call on the president requesting that Mr. Burroughs, an Englishman by birth, a Vermonter by adoption, a federal soldier by choice and a republican by preference, be appointed over Mr. Washington, relative of the man who overthrew the English, as postmaster at the intensely American, fiercely Southern and rigidly democratic city of Alexandria.

"Verily, the time of miracles has not passed, the reconstruction of Alexandria evidently is complete. Our ancient, and esteemed contemporary, the Gazette, is deferentially invited to salute the star-spangled banner, scream like the eagle, doff its hat to the union-jack, express its tender tolerance for republican principles and emit into the atmosphere where the Confederate flag floated in sight of Washington and Ellsworth and Jackson died, a screeching hurrah for Theodore Roosevelt."

And this from Richmond, many of whose people were "reconstructed" the day after the war closed and not a few of whom, there has always been a lurking suspicion, had reached that condition of "loyalty" even before hostilities ceased! But no; the Gazette will neither hurrah for Roosevelt in the atmosphere where the Confederate flag once floated; express its tolerance for republican principles, nor scream like an eagle over the appointment of a republican postmaster in Alexandria. Neither does the Gazette, by reason of the manner in which such appointment was received, acknowledge "the thoroughness with which its ancient city has been reconstructed."

For the information of our young, but esteemed, cotemporary and in reply to our friend's inquiry, it it stated that the business men of Alexandria are not "delighted because the President turned down Mr. Washington." They regarded the race for the office as between republicans and as a choice between the applicants of that political persuasion, and feeling confident that a republican only would be appointed, many of them endorsed Mr. Burroughs for the reason that he had lived in their midst for forty years and had thoroughly identified himself with this city. Mr. Washington, who has a host of friends in Alexandria who would be glad to see him get any office to which he might aspire, was, as a matter of fact, not in a true sense an applicant for the Alexandria postoffice. It is true he was a "receptive" candidate, through "personal" appointment by the President, for the place, but he did not ask the endorsement of the citizens of Alexandria, nor did he ever file an application for the office or make an effort to secure it. Had he been appointed he, of course, would have accepted the place, and his many friends here would have rejoiced with him. It can be added that Mr. Burroughs's appointment was through republican influence in general and Col. Slemp, an ex-Confederate officer, in particular; further, that the Gazette is not responsible for the action of the ladies, though the ladies have considerable influence over the Gazette.

Branch Line Railway.

The Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railway Company is building a branch road from its main line at Clarendon to the new Highway bridge across the Potomac. About one-quarter of a mile of track has already been laid, and the work is being pushed with vigor. The company expects to be operating cars over the new route before the beginning of the fiscal year. Arrangements for transfer of passengers from the line of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company to the former company's line have been favorably considered, and by these means, when the branch road is completed, the public will be offered a new route to Arlington and Fort Myer. Passengers will be able to board a car at 12th street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest Washington, or at any of the stations in Alexandria and reach the places named, or any other point along the line of the Falls Church road.

Personal.

Mr. Harry E. Chapman has gone to Cumberland, Md., where he has accepted a position as machinist with the B. & O. Railroad Company.

Mr. Walter Posey continues seriously ill.

Mrs. Robert Travers has entered a Washington hospital where she will undergo an operation for cataract.

The condition of Mrs. Henry Strauss, whose critical illness has been mentioned in the Gazette, remained unchanged today.

Mr. J. Y. Williams, who has been quite ill for the past week, is improving.

Dr. T. Marshall Jones is confined to his home with a slight attack of jaundice.

Mr. K. Kemper has gone to Richmond to attend a meeting of the Masonic Orphans' Home board.

Judge J. K. M. Norton is confined to his home by a slight case of grip.

Dr. Walter A. Warfield has decided to locate in this city and has rented an office at No. 220 south Fairfax street.

Rev. Father Sullivan, of Georgetown University, delivered an interesting and effective sermon at St. Mary's Church last night.

It is understood that Messrs. Henry Schnell, president, and Joseph Ramsay, general manager of the Alexandria Glass Works, have tendered their resignations, and that the latter will become associated with the Old Dominion Glass Company.

Miss Jessie Martin delightfully entertained a number of her friends at her home, 217 north St. Asaph street, last night, at an auction of ghosts party.

Mr. Thomas B. Nowland, who has been the guest of Mrs. A. T. Schoeni, on south Lee street, left yesterday for his home in New York.

Charged with Murder.

Joseph Levell, wanted in Fairfax county, for the alleged murder of Philip Wilkinson, was yesterday turned over by the Washington authorities to Sheriff J. R. Allison, who went to Washington with a requisition from Gov. Swanson. Levell has been confined in the District jail for several months, serving sentence for beating a negro girl. His sentence was commuted yesterday by the President in order that he might be released to the Virginia authorities. Levell is charged with the murder of Philip Wilkinson, near Fairfax Court House June 13 last. After committing the crime he is said to have buried the body of his victim. Not being satisfied with having sufficiently blotted out all traces of the crime, he is said to have exhumed the body and tried to sink it in the Potomac river. Failing in this, it is alleged, he again buried the body.

Opera House.

A prominent dramatic critic, reviewing the successes and failures of this season, in a late number of a popular magazine makes the following statement: "It is not the manager who changes his play each year who makes money. The successful manager is the one who takes one play, sticks to it, endeavors to build it up, and each year offers it to the public in better shape than before." This was Fred Raymond's idea eleven years ago when he first introduced "The Missouri Girl." Each year the play has been improved and twice re-written, and now Mr. Raymond has the satisfaction of knowing that he has one of the best money-making attractions on the road, and the "greatest domestic comedy of the age." One performance of "The Missouri Girl" will be given at the Opera House tonight.

New Pier.

The new pier which Carter & Clark are to build for the new steel company, which will establish a big shell-making plant on the south side of the Eastern branch a short distance north of this city, will be located about two hundred yards north of the old Mann fertilizer factory on the river at a point where the channel sweeps closest to the shore. The contractors will begin work as soon as the necessary piles can be obtained, and it is understood the pier is to be ready for service early in the coming summer. It is to be equipped with big derricks for the handling of heavy objects, and will be modern in all its equipment.

Steamer Inspected.

The steamer Washington of the Norfolk and Washington line was given her annual inspection Monday at Washington by the United States steamboat inspectors, who made thorough inspection of boilers, hull, fire-fighting apparatus and life-saving appliances. The steamer was found to comply with all the requirements to the fullest extent, and her license to carry passengers on the Potomac and on Chesapeake bay will be renewed for another year.

Woman's Auxiliary.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, was held last night, when the following officers were re-elected: Mrs. J. M. Hill, president; Mrs. India Henderson, first vice president; Mrs. Blanche Berkley second vice president; Mrs. T. W. Rose, recording secretary; Miss Ada Garrett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James E. Alexander, treasurer.

Property Sales.

Dr. S. B. Moore has sold to Mrs. S. Irene Nagel two lots in the square bounded by Alfred, Patrick, Wolfe and Wilkes streets; also two lots in the same square to Mrs. Sarah I. Nagel.

John Scroggins has sold to C. M. Newton a house and lot on the east side of Henry street, between King and Cameron.

W. C. T. U.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Children's Home, on Duke street.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will also be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Children's Home, on Duke street.

Death of Railway Clerk.

Mr. Henry L. Kelley, aged twenty-eight, assistant chief clerk in the Southern Railway offices in this city, died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, at the home of his father, Joseph C. Kelley, in Charlottesville. He had been ill from tuberculosis for three years.

Collector for Fish Wharf.

Mr. W. H. Helmuth, of the committee on public property, has, under a resolution of the City Council, appointed Captain A. J. Fair collector of wharfage at the corporation fish wharf. The captain's duties will continue throughout the fishing season.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Legislature.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, March 7.—The House today refused to take up the Caton rolling stock bill, thus practically killing it for the session.

Divided reports come from the Corporation Commission investigating committee. The majority report, signed by Messrs. Byrd, Sims, Wilson and Early, is a sweeping arraignment of Judge Crump, while the one signed by Messrs. Boyd and Sears regards Judge Crump's action as indiscreet. The majority report declares Judge Crump's usefulness as a public servant greatly impaired and practically calls on him to resign. The two reports were presented in both houses and were ordered to be printed.

Train Plunged Down Bank.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 7.—Erie train No. 7, leaving New York at 9 p. m., known as the Pacific express, and considered the fastest mail and express train on the road, running between New York and Chicago, ran into an open switch in this city this morning at five o'clock, and plunged down a 20-foot embankment into Court street. The engineer, Sam Mason, of Hornellsville, and the fireman, L. A. Jackson, of Cameron, were seriously injured. The mail clerk, Edward Jones, William Barlow, D. L. Gray and J. A. Krampe, escaped with cuts and bruises. The mail car caught fire, but most of the mail was saved. Wells Fargo messenger Seaton, of New York, was also slightly injured. Three hundred passengers, of which half were immigrants, westward bound, escaped without injury. The engine, mail car and express car went into the street. A Lackawanna train was crossing the Erie tracks and, owing to a blinding snow storm, Engineer Mason did not see the danger signals. An automatic derail threw the train down the bank.

Alarming Reports.

St. Petersburg, March 7.—Alarming reports have been received here from the far East to the effect that the Japanese in that region are maltreating Russians. The Japanese are reported to have boasted that they will resume the war against Russia.

Warsaw, Poland, March 7.—Six political prisoners who had been condemned to be shot escaped through the windows of Modlin fortress where they were confined, through the connivance of the sentries who were bribed for $15 each.

Advices today received from Chentzstowa, in the government of Piotrkow, say a band of armed workmen invaded the office of a French spinning company and shot the director, a Frenchman named Jacout.

Violent Scenes in Chamber.

Paris, March 7.—Interpellations of the government today in regard to various incidents connected with the taking of inventories of the property of Catholic churches under the law providing for the separation of the church and State, led to violent scenes in the Chamber of Deputies. The nationalist orators reproached the governor for resorting to violence in taking the inventory while the socialists maintained that the government had lacked firmness in granting any concessions to the nationalists. Deputy Lascies created a sensation in the chamber by declaring that the Mohammedans in Algeria are treated better than the Catholics in France since the pledges of the government to the former were kept, while the promises to the latter have been broken.

Received Into the Catholic Church.

Madrid, March 7.—This morning at Miramir Palace, San Sebastian, Princess Ena of Battenberg, the bride elect of King Alfonso, formally abjured her Anglican religious faith and was received into the Roman Catholic church. The Princess was baptized under the name of Victoria. Alfonso's mother, the Queen mother, Christina, acted as godmother for the Princess, and Prince Ferdinand of Bavaria stood as godfather for the new convert. Prime Minister Moret represented the government at the ceremony.

Conciliatory Instructions.

Berlin, March 7.—The Foreign Office today informed the correspondent of the Publisher's Press that the German government has sent new conciliatory instructions to the German delegates to the international conference on Moroccan affairs now in session at Algeciras. These new instructions are intended to facilitate the reaching of a satisfactory agreement at the conference.

Edward to William.

Berlin, March 7.—Kaiser William has received a long friendly letter from King Edward of England in which the British monarch addresses his nephew as "My Dear William." In diplomatic circles this is considered a hopeful sign that better relations will be established between Germany and England in the near future.

Work of Sub-committee.

New York, March 7.—The sub-committee appointed by the anthracite operators to consider the miners demands and the statistics furnished by the operators bearing upon them, will probably not conclude its labors and report to the general committee of operators before the end of the week.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There were no cases for trial before the Police Court this morning.

The basketball game which was to have been played at Armory Hall last night was postponed.

Mrs. Caroline Kast, wife of Frank Kast, died at her home on Oronoco street yesterday.

The Thursday Night Assembly will give a dance tomorrow night.

Case Dismissed.

New York, March 7.—The suit of Miss Sarah Madden, the former actress, against Peter Duryea, the millionaire horseman, for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage, came to a sudden termination in the Supreme Court today, when Justice Giegerich, on application of counsel for the defendant, dismissed the complaint. Counsel for Miss Madden stated that if they had known as much before as they know now, they never would have been brought into the case.

Plot Frustrated.

The police of Atlanta, Ga., last night arrested in a house near the federal prison nine men, who, it is alleged by the police, were preparing to carry out a plot to dynamite the penitentiary in an effort to release certain criminals undergoing long sentences.

A quantity of dydamite was found in possession of the men arrested. The prisoners all gave names which were plainly fictitious. One of them has been identified by the warden of the penitentiary as a desperate western outlaw, who has a pal in the the prison doing time for train robbery.

The officials are very reticent, but it is known that Warden Moyer warned the Atlanta police that he feared an attack on the prison, and asked them to be watchful. The warden says that he had information some days ago that there was a plot to attack the prison, and since then guards have been doubled at night.

Warden Moyer says the men under arrest are nearly all from Oklahoma and Indian Territory, and that they have friends in the prison. It is alleged that evidence was found to show that the men arrested had begun to dig a tunnel under the penitentiary. The house which the gang had rented is right at the prison, and it is alleged that all appliances for destroying the structure were found by the officers.

George Small, the negro who was placed on trial at Mount Holly, N. J., Monday, charged with the killing of Miss Florence W. Allinson, near Moorestown, on January 18, was last night convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged on March 21, at which time Rufus Johnson, colored, will also be executed for the same crime.

Johnson was convicted of the murder on February 8 and sentenced to hang on February 23. A few days prior to the day set for execution Small, who had been arrested for complicity in the crime, made a confession, in which he said he killed the woman. On the strength of this statement Johnson was reprieved for a month, pending the outcome of Small's trial.

A Very Sensitive Lady.

A young lady endowed with the most sensitive nerves mentioned one evening to a few friends assembled in her drawing room that she had a horror of the rose. "The perfume of this flower," said she, "gives me a severe headache and faintness." The conversation was interrupted by the visit of a fair friend who wore a rosebud in her headdress. Our fair heroine turned pale directly, tossed her arms and fell gracefully in a swoon upon the ottoman.

"What a strange nervous susceptibility! What a delicate and impressionable organization!" cried the spectators. "For mercy's sake, madam, go away! Don't you see that you have caused this attack?"

"I?" replied the astonished lady.

"Yes, of course it is the perfume of the rosebud in your hair."

"Really, if it is so I will sacrifice the guilty flower, but judge before you sentence."

The flower, detached from the headdress, was passed from hand to hand among the spectators, but their solicitude soon gave way to a different emotion. The fatal rosebud was an artificial one!—London Leader.

Fate of the Twelve Disciples.

Andrew was probably crucified at Patrae, in Achaia; Bartholomew, said to have been flayed alive and crucified, with head down, in Armenia; James, brother of John, Herod killed him with his sword; James, son of Alpheus, thrown from the temple and stoned to death; John, time of death a conjecture; Judas, said to have hanged himself in a very bungling manner; Jude, said to have died naturally and also claimed to have been martyred; Matthew, claimed as a martyr, but probably died a natural death; Peter, crucified at Rome; Philip, said to have been tortured to death in Greece; Simon (Cananite), crucified in Judaea in the reign of Domitian; Thomas, probably put to death with a lance in Persia or India.

Just Sneeze Right Out.

"Never suppress a sneeze," said the trained nurse to the young woman who had just performed that polite act. "It is a great strain on all the nerves and blood vessels of the head, as it throws all the action to the back of the head instead of letting it come out of the mouth safely and naturally. The unusual and hard strain on a little blood vessel that may be weak is likely to burst it and cause instant death. A loud sneeze does not sound very nice, but it is a safe thing to do every time."

Camel Cavalry.

It is common to think of a camel, the proverbial ship of the desert, as a patient beast of burden. Guided by skillful hands, however, it becomes a very formidable war steed. The Somali warriors have ridden camels in many fierce charges for generations. Mounted on the back of an active camel with a long spear for a weapon, one of these savages is an enemy to be feared.

No Poetry In His Soul.

Patrick—Phat's thot yez dug up, Molke? Mike—Only a clothespin. Patrick (indignantly)—Only a clothespin, is it! Och, but it's little poetry yez have in y'r soul, Molke. T'ink av the scores av shwate mouths thot same clothespin may have been into.—New York Weekly.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several does that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
